The Beginning

Remember my voice calling out your name
Remember this day as it comes harmongly with tear along with a smile

Remember our first words set to be along forgotton,
Remember me as I respond to your shout in love
Remember the high notes we sang of our own

Remember the touch, the smile and the words, the sweet talk of emotional speech

Remember the tear drop of an eye along with a smile of joyful memonts
I remember the words you said and the smile we shared together...

It comes with a miracle in a simple way, it get stronger with time to grow older inside.
