Oh In Your Eyes

If you figured me out somehow
It would be the end of my dream
I will stop dreaming, knowing that you know me now
But still I never said a word
If i say it, i will miss you
But, i still want you to feel me

It is your eyes
Oh in your eyes
I feel complete
It is your eyes
Oh your eyes
All i am surrendering
It is your eyes
Oh in your eyes
I see the shine
I see a wonderful paradise

I pray in my heart that you will chose me
And you will hold my heart in your hands forever
I want my heart to be unbroken
And with you I want to be complete
If i say it, i will miss you
But, i still want you to feel me

It is your eyes
Oh in your eyes
I feel complete
It is your eyes
Oh your eyes
All i am surrendering
It is your eyes
Oh in your eyes
I see the shine
I see a wonderful paradise

Now i want to stay still, just the way i am supposed to be
And i will let down all my dreams, and breathe the loneliness
Yet i can't turn back, your sparkling eyes always draws me back to you

So If i say i love you, i will miss you
But love, i still want you to feel me

It is your eyes
Oh in your eyes
I feel complete
It is your eyes
Oh your eyes
All i am surrendering
It is your eyes
Oh in your eyes
I see the shine
I see a wonderful paradise

Remember When

remember when
we were walking down the street
I hardly knew you and I saw you look my way we read our hearts, along with the stars
remember when...

remember when
we met as friends, laughed easily and talked you hold my hand and looked at my eyes what i heard took my breath aside
remember when...

remember when
we first felt our lips with the sun shine
I couldn't look into your eyes and couldn't say a word it is surprising how we meant to be
remember when...

remember when
the moment we said good bye, I felt broken with your unspoken words all my dreams fell down and all i ever got was nothing so you left me alone in a secret place, where the dreamers weep
remember when...

We Will See The Light

I will be the one who let you go
I will sit on the stairs and watch you go
'cause that is what we meant to be
I will break the chains that bind you
I will pack my bags and come out of your heart
'cause that is what we meant to be

We had better dreams for us
But now they deny us
It is our messed up hearts, drag us to the cold if your hands are not the last, that I want to hold
So I will not regret,
For the choices we've made

This is not a battle that we've lost
This is not what we wished
We didn't ask for this destiny
To left with all these questions, and all mysteries Still we can smile with our fate
'Cause we are glad what we've got last

I will not move to yesterday which is hollow
To the land that is been left in sorrow
Tomorrow will shine bright,
Showing the staight path from an arrow
Where we both will see the light,
Through the dark tunnel narrow
