A Glimpse Of Innocence.

I walked past her door, just catching a glimpse;
never did it occur that all i knew was about to change ever since...

Precious were the moments i shared;
always hoping that darkness should never prevail...

I had jumped to another world and never realized;
only to find that i was seeing this world through her eyes...

I thought i was so lucky to have this gain;
but didn't ever think twice that i would be suffering all this pain...

Things were about to change as i had never known them;
but even knowing what i was about to face i would have always chosen them...

Tears of blood and hugs of joy, all were shared;
if she could see the world through my eyes, she would know how much i cared...

I walked past her door, just catching a glimpse...
Then i realised that love would never be the same ever since! !

Falling

Being in your presence, you make me feel lighter than air;
The touch, the smile; you charm me with such a flair.

I feel like i miss you even when you are here:
Please do help me to get rid of this stupid little fear.

Living in your shadows, i may have never tried to patch;
Hope i don't become a shadow that you may never be able to catch.

I fear I am losing this gift of poetic sense in me;
Am i falling out of love, or is love failing within me?

Forever Always.

A life filled wit friends is always considered to be said, that it was like the clouds wit a rainbow lit high up ahead...

I couldn't have asked for something so sweet;
as the relationship since the time of our first meet...

We have had our highs and we have even had our lows;
But nothing compares to the joy that so obviously seems to grow...

But one fine day, if things fall apart and time and hurt tend to pull at our heart;
'forever always' are words only said but reality was - it was all in our heads!

But through it all we truly shine. It will be you and me till the end of time.
'I Love You' will now be said and a great friendship lies waiting ahead...!

Life Through My Eyes.

The thought of deliberately sticking to what i am, kept me enclosed in the mind of a child;
it was too late when i realized that if i don't change, i would go wild.

The roads felt bumpy and the paths twisted;
maybe it was the direction i took that made the efforts look wasted.

The wind that blows always seems to tell an untold story;
its only when you feel it in you, that you can bask in your own fated glory.

The pursuit of happiness might have taught me a thing or two;
but most times made me feel the pain and left me stranded without a clue.

Giving up a struggle to chase what i love, will be the last thing i do;
i guess thats the part in me that keeps me alive and helps me in doing what i do.

Life isn't the measure of the number of breaths you take in every moment;
but its all about the number of moments that take your breath away!

Live life in every moment and love life for what its given you :)

The Perfect Proposal

Praying that one day, my dreams will finally come true;
in the hope that someday love might brew.

I am staying silent, hoping that nothing in your life goes wrong;
but i will be waiting till the day your heart sings the same song.

Your beauty and expressions catapult me to another dimension;
I wish my feelings are not un-noticed that they would require a mention!

You drive me crazy with all these sweet little things;
it isn't my intention to mess with the way you think...

Feel like hugging you tight and being very close to you;
but how can i tell you these three little words - 'I Love You'! !
