I Need You

you flew away to heaven, now i cant believe your gone, someday we'll come together and realise that we belong.
love will fade away but the memories will stay, even though your gone, i know you are still here holding me in your arms, even though the time will pass and we will never be together, i know you are here floating around like a feather.
i need you like the sun needs the sky and the flowers need the rain, you are the shinning light in my star, the wishing well in my earth, you are the horizon on the sun, you were such a beautiful mum.
