Friendship Is Many Things...

Friendship contains love.
Friendship contains anger.

Friendship guides us to light.
Friendship guides us to darkness.

Friendship gives us dreams.
Friendship gives us nightmares.

Friendship brings us a lot of friends.
Friendship brings us a lot enemies.

Friendship lets us have fun.
Friendship lets us have fights.

Friendship gives us the courage to try.
Friendship gives us the moment to be shy.

Friendship means a lot to me.
No one is to be left out.

The Death Of Our Friendship

This is the bitter end
of another friendship
gone awry;
a friendship that never was meant to bring
two people together
and have them
depend on one another.

Join me for the funeral
as we watch our memories
be buried in the dirt
with the worms and bugs
who will eat
every last memory,
never to be recalled again.

This is the death
of our friendship.
May it rest in peace
and be forgotten
like all those other ones
you have buried
along with ours.
