Dedicated To My Boss

I get mad
Driven by evil
I know I am sinning

Do not force your stupid opinion
Or your stink attitude on me
Murderous thoughts overtake my whole body
I am struggling to control myself

You look down on me
Confident in you smugness
Dwelling in your Power

I am not an insignificant specimen
You think you can control
Like well prepared dough
I will rise

I will beat you into submission
Make a human being out of you
If possible at all

My Greatest Enemy

I am wearing a mask
A timeless defence
To hide who I am
Too scared to be
Outcast
Wanting love and acceptance
Vulnerable and small

Well, I am tired of this act
It downright pisses me off
To be strewn all over the place
With no one to pick up the pieces
And mend my heart

You will not stand in my way
If you do
I will walk right over you
Or through you
You will be invisible to me

Dear enemy
You will be vulnerable and small
I am tired of your act
Just get out of my way
